When the holy (.....) decides to take a look,
Refers to the pages of his holy book,
Sends the warm rain falling from the sky,
If you've never been a sailor better try
If you've never been a sailor better try
If you've never been a sailor better try
If you've never been a sailor better try
If you've never been a sailor better try
If you've never been a sailor better try
If you've never been a sailor better try
If you've never been a sailor you'd better try.....
