Lyrics by Leif Edling

"Edge of time, the dawn of our heaven all is black, the return of the fallen angel amongst us, a devil in disguise the preacher of the wicked establishing his kingdom"
A million souls so lost and damned alive but not so well and the devil raised his hand and sent them down to hell Just like your father held your hand he's watching over his creed Damnation and death, they'll burn in flames no matter how they plead
To you, coming for your soul
Just like a shepherd assembling his floack this one rules hells domain Satanic force, Lucifers power attack, and he will reign
To you, coming for your soul
Into the night we will go
Into the night we will go Out from the night he comes saviour but black
"won't you come, come and join us?"
You had better!
There's no time to beg for mercy
the devil says no. no You'll be his faithful servant
this time, on earth Black is the devil, Antichrist the Tempter damned your birth Listen to the wicked, sell your soul forever hell awaits
Into the night we will go
