It's an emergency
I needed you to come rescue my heart urgently
Oh, baby, but you never changed so the things kept hurting me
Now I see perfectly what went wrong, aye, aye, aye

Countless times I begged you to listen
Now you want me to think you got the message
I know I said it's over
The last time that we broke up
But I'ma say it clear and loud
I bet you care and hear me now

The expiration date that I gave to you
Has now come and gone so I have to move
And that's when love stopped, died
And you know, it's too late for me to hold on
The expiration date
Is when our love fades away

It's so stupid to me
But I'm already over the shit that you did to me
But there's so many parts of our broken history
That I mentally erased from my mind, aye, aye, aye

Countless times I begged you to listen
Now you want me to think you got the message
I know I said it's over
The last time that we broke up
But I'ma say it clear and loud
I bet you care and hear me now

The expiration date that I gave to you
Has now come and gone so I have to move
And that's when love stopped, died
And you know, it's too late for me to hold on
The expiration date
Is when our love fades away

I said, I think it's kinda funny now
How you wanna hang around
How 'bout you get your shit and get out?

'Cause I don't want you around
When you had the chance you just couldn't manage
The time that we spent
You just took advantage of love

The expiration date that I gave to you
Has now come and gone so I have to move
And that's when love stopped died
And you know, it's too late for me to hold on
The expiration date
Is when our love fades away
