I've found the road to my soul
So long twisted and torn
I've been running around in this world for so long now
I've been feeling down and low
Hold on. Just give it some time
I've been running away from myself for so long now
All I ever wanted was something to believe in Nothing matters more to me right now
I'm haunted by these thoughts of you
No one's ever showed me your love
Kill me again
I've found the road to your soul
Sold out and feeling so tired
You've been running around in the world for so long now
Another journey through the great unknown
Come on. Let's give it a try

You've been running away from yourself for so long
Nothing matters more to me right now
I'm haunted by these thoughts of you
No one's ever showed me your love
Kill me again
Come on and kill me again
All I ever wanted was something to hold on to All I ever needed was something to believe in
Nothing matters more to me right now
I'm haunted by these thoughts of you
No one's ever showed me your love
Kill me again
Nothing matters more to me right now
I'm haunted by, I'm haunted by
No one's ever showed me your love
Kill me again
