There you are, here I am like we've always been Waking up with the sun, same old thing again
We don't talk, we don't touch, we don't act like friends Will this ever end, will we ever mend

I don't recognize, the man inside your eyes
And what do you see, when you're looking at me?

What happened to forever
What happened to I'll never,
leave you in the dark,
leave you in the cold
Leave you here all alone
What happened to the passion at home,
what happened to missing me when you're gone
What happened to me,
what happened to you,
what happened to us?

She got your smile, got my eyes, yeah she got it all
And there she is,
fast asleep,
just right down the hall

What will you say, will I say, will she ever understand, How can her mum and dad,
go and ruin her plans And does she realize, we've been telling her lies How can we make her choose, either way she loose

What happened to IÂll never,
leave you in the dark,
leave you in the cold,
What happened to the passion at home,
what happened to missing me when yourÂe gone
What happened to me,
what happened to you,
what happened to us?

And just how long will we wait, to see if time can change us Or if anything can save us

What happened to the passion at home,
What happened to me,
what happened to you,
Ohh, what will you say,
what will I say?
