By the time I figure things out
It's to late
There's a lot I need to say that just can't wait
We might end up in tears
But you don't show any fear
I wish I could be that way

I wanna see the world from a different point of view
Look at life just like you do
I wanna make love and every dream come true
Make the best of life just like you do

Tell me what you thinking, right now
You say you get by, I wonder how Maybe it's just me, if I could only let it be
I learn to look beyond the clouds

I wanna see the world from a different point of view
Look at life just like you do
I wanna make love and every dream come true
Make the best of life just like you do

If life was simple, if life were fair
We wouldn't even have to care

I wanna see the world from a different point of view
and
Look at life just like you do
I wanna make love and every dream come true
Make the best of life... just like you do
Just like you do!
