

Jill Johnson

"Love Lessons"

Visit "Love Lessons" on MotoLyrics.com

No more needing no more bleeding
My heart has got to mend
No more hating, no more waiting
Time for the healing to begin
Time for the healing to begin

Love lessons midnight confessions
That's where you learn about the pain
When there's not a single cloud in the sky
Still you know it's gonna rain
Such are the lessons of love

No more lying no more crying
These tears I must dry
No more yearning no more burning
From these ashes I will rise
From these ashes I will rise

Love lessons midnight confessions
That's where you learn about the pain

When there's not a single cloud in the sky
I still you know it's gonna rain
Such are the lessons of love

When the passion is gone and still you're holding on Because you don't know what else to do
Thought you'd seen it all, but pride comes before the fall
And now it's falling in on you

Love lessons midnight confessions
That's where you learn about the pain
When there's not a single cloud in the sky
I still you know it's gonna rain
I still you know it's gonna rain
Such are the lessons of
Such are the lessons of love
No more, no more, no more lessons of love

