I was just thinkin' about you
Wonderin' if you wear the same cologne?
Smelled good on you
Had the next boyfriend of mine try that same kind
But it stunk on him though

You know what they say
Everythin' ain't for everybody
But I tried anyway
You sure did smell good

Hey, eh, yeah
You just runnin' across my mind
You just runnin' across my mind
You just runnin' across my mind
You just runnin' across my mind

You had that masculine thing down
Shoulders, back straight, never slumpin', never round
It would turn me on just to see you walk
Into a room, across the room, out of the room
You really impressed me

Hey, eh, yeah
You just runnin' across my mind
You just runnin' across my mind
You just runnin' across my mind
You just runnin' across my mind

I know if I pick up this phone
Write this letter, send this two way
I know I'm gonna say some things
I know you gonna say some things
That we both don't mean to say

Like, how amazin', how amazin'
When you would spread my limbs cross continents
Bumped my bed way over mountains and ya
Kiss this and this and this and this
And this and this and this and this
And this and this and this and that, hey
Show each other where the climax is at

You're just runnin' across my mind
Across my mind
You're just runnin' across my mind
You're just runnin', hey

I was just thinkin' about you
And wonderin' what you're doin'
I mean what you've been up to?
I know it's wrong feelin' so strong
Let me take a second minute
I will think this thing through

I was just thinkin' about you
And wonderin' what you're doin'
I mean what you've been up to?
I know it's wrong feelin' so strong
Let me take a second minute
I will think this thing through

Remember all the moments for two
How we used to, ooh, yeah
But the reality, honestly
That you where never good for me
And I was never good for you
I just remember what we used to do
