nothing natural could come between enamored mortals such as we the winds may blow us far apart but nothing will undo our hearts no matter how far I wander, what stars I'm under I'll always come back to you nothing natural could turn the tide that washes over both our lives by day we'll burn, by night we'll rust and who knows what becomes of us no matter how far I tumble, what stars I'm under

to you

no matter how far I tumble, what spell I'm under
