Our love is freedom, our love is free from
All those married things that raise their ugly heads
Our love is distant, there's no commitment
There might be something better up ahead instead
Our love is so safe, you live in another state
It's just the sad, sad fate to be
The girl in the affair
(ba ba, ba ba ah ah)
Our love is secret, but it's so grown up
No one has to suspect anything at all
But when you come visit me, you give your love so openly
If only for just one week with
The girl in the affair
She's not supposed to care
Girl in the affair
She's not supposed to care
But she did this time and she's breaking every rule
She's handing her heart to you
The girl in the affair
