I don't know if you're smarter than me when I was your age
Or if I just taught you things
I'm not saying I never learned from you
We're the perfect example of one and one makes two
You say
Baby just relax you think too much
But I can't help thinkin such crazy things
Crazy things
You take my view point and you turn it around
You the perfect smile to compensate for my frown and I know everything will be okay

Cause we have what we need
To be for eternity
It's in you and me
Oh
We have we what we need
To be for eternity
It's in you and me
You and me you and me
Yeah

You're my fun money honey and I'll pay the bills
We're both sleep deprived cause I wanna love ya till
The sun comes up the sun comes up the sun goes down
On Saturday we'll play
It's our one day away from the rest of the world
Instead of escape, we'll stay in and misbehave

I say, "I miss you so"
You say, "I'm right here"
I say, "Please don't go"
You say, "I have to my dear"

Don't make that face
I'll be right back
To love you more
I promise that."

Cause we have what we need

To be for eternity
It's in you and me
Oh
To be for eternity
It's in you and me
You and me you and me
Yeah

It's just another one of those love songs
It's just another one of those love songs
It's just another one of

To be for eternity
It's in you and me
Oh
To be for eternity
It's in you and me
Oh
To be for eternity
It's in you and me
Oh
To be for eternity
It's in you and me
You and me you and me
Yeah

It's just another one of those love songs

Except this one's about you... you ... this one's about you

This one's about you.
