I remember when I was younger
I use to get inspired by the music
I heard all of the time
Made it so enjoyable
To spend some of my day with
It always got caught in my head
Never could get it out
Now it's just got me writing

These love songs
It's been more fuel for thought
Can't believe I spent my time
Writing these love songs
Don't know if it was worth it
But I don't even need a beat
To sing the songs I wrote
Cause I can sing it by piano

What was I thinking?
The meanings were kinda weird (haha)
But I guess that's how my young mind was Always twisting it up
Thinking it would go perfectly
One day it started with a blank page
And before I even knew it
I saw many words that formed into a song

It was love songs
It's been more fuel for thought
Can't believe I spent my time
Writing these love songs
Don't know if it was worth it
But I don't even need a beat
To sing the songs I wrote
Cause I can sing it by piano

Now sing it, sing it
S-sing it, sing it
I always sang these when I was in-
Oops! That almost slipped out! Haha

My love songs
It's been more fuel for thought
Can't believe I spent my time
Writing these love songs (A love song)
Don't know if it was worth it (Oh, no)
But I don't even need a beat (Don't even need the beat)
To sing the songs I wrote (Because I can sing it)
Cause I can sing it by piano

Ooh...
Oh...
Yeah...
Ohohohhohoh oooooohhh!
