Been a long time since we ever talked to each other
I wonder if this will go on forever
Cause I just don't why you disappeared just like that

Sending our letters would just be a waste of time
They'll probably get lost anyway, no no
But it feels like I'm trying to get someone back
When it feels you don't even exist at all

That's why I always look at the phone
To prove that I am not alone
Cause I really miss your voice
The way you talk is lost in my memories
I don't know what I would do
If you were really gone
Cause I know someday that
We'll talk about our life again
That's why I'm always here
Waiting for your call

Da da da da dadadadadaaaaaa
Da da da da daadadaaaada
Da da da da dadadadadaaaaaa
I'm always here, looking at the phone

I wonder how much you changed now
It's been over a year since we met face to face
I wonder if you changed your whole personality

But hey, you're still the one that I want
No matter how much you change
Cause I know the old you, is somewhere
Somewhere inside of you

That's why I always look at the phone
To prove that I am not alone
Cause I really miss your voice
The way you talk is lost in my memories
I don't know what I would do
If you were really gone
Cause I know someday that

We'll talk about our life again
That's why I'm always here
Waiting for your call

All I wanna do is
Hear your voice
One more time
And I wish that I
Was looking into your eyes
So I know it's you
The one I really love
Oh, it's you

Oh oh!

That's why I always look at the phone
To prove that I am not alone
And I'm right here staring at the phone
To prove that I am not alone
Cause I really miss your voice
The way you talk is lost in my memories
I don't know what I would do
If you were really gone
Cause I know someday that
We'll talk about our life again
That's why I'm always here
Waiting for your call

Da da da da dadadadadaaaaaa (I'll be right here)
Da da da da daadadaaaaada (Waiting for your call) Da da da da dadadadadaaaaaa (No matter how long it takes!)
I'm always here, looking at the phone (Ohhhhhhhhhhhh)
