mic club x4

this is a favorite short sayin of mine two famous lines time flies, especially when you listeing to rhymes the words will come time, and time is ? around the world in eighty seconds, through a sentence,

experience is the mother of all invention who knows the unknown, where you will end up question yourself, who when or what I tell this much, it is up to every one of you learn from the past or the future will punish you power flows to those who remember memory comes from words, words come from letters this is mic club's primary premise we tell history we don't let history tell us

mic club x4

I think I write because it is the only thing I know how to do very, and its my way of contributing to the betterment of the planet and to my community
