My lyrical inertia rips holes thru the fabric of universes with rhymes three times the density of what the earth is I carry lyrics for niggas who carry burners you against me is like a lighter against the furnace knockin niggas out and knockin niggas off comin around the way with them lugz that look like clarks check the astrophysics of these lyrical lyrics comin in digits to big for niggas to count on they fingers check the hype shit blow up a mic shit you might get beat the fuck up in broad daylight with a nightstick mentally advanced ever since the brain transplant Canibus receives the Fugee jacket from texzan

The secret of the ages I illuminate with logic what I speak is more than just deep its bottomless with common sense Im organized like crime and mafias plus the way I rhyme is prime like optimus a rapologist u could sit and do the knowledge with from GEDs to degrees from Ivy League colleges I politic with any magazine columnist about topics other mcs won't even bother with rock solid shit like stones and monuments its obvious the third eye of the obelisk is watchin us closely thru a microscope and a pair of binoculars ghetto scholars like me who study street calculus I utilize every letter of the Arabic alphabet to touch a part of your body that makes you feel arroginis

I drink a gallon of the ginseng extract And harness all my lyrical power to rip tracks I shed light upon pitch black So at times even my third eye finds my rhymes too bright to glimpse at

I think back to before I was born When suckas wasn't even involved in this art form Now they write rhymes to reflect nothin but hard times While I be on America Online
