1st Verse:

Begin with an opening line that gets you reels you in let the hook dig into your tongue and your lips fasten shut and listen with a clear open mind that lets you have the most information seep through your pores out of room out of touch

Chorus:

But victory is in reach or too few and far between with courtesy of curtain calls the case has displayed her argument's trophy's too small (2nd Chorus add on->This time I think I have you beat throw in the towel in defeat accept the fact that in all the case has displayed the jurors are right and you're wrong)

2nd Verse:

And then the same kind of things will happen where you look at yourself and begin to dissect what's so trademark of you but my friend you're not the one who's been dreaming and she'll testify you've been cheating but no one spells disaster like you do
