1st Verse:

Hold your breath when I'm choking you hands clenched tight while your face turns blue she said I'll breathe in the air that's trapped in your throat (lungs) here I am at my weakest point so defenseless and vulnerable she said I'll hold off a bit to watch you suffer

Chorus:

A stab in the back is all I need to confirm that my friend's are nothing but close enemies only you can expose or conceal the wound cause it was opened up by you

2nd Verse:

Carve out my heart with sharper tools nail it on the wall for me to use I can pick it apart or throw arrows and darts in anger the loss is short but the pain is long the gash is deep but your frame is strong she said my achilles heel is a stake in the chest I can't feel

Ending:

Cupid's lonely tonight and he's taking over Valentine (4x)
