1st Verse:

Expectations are low as you're heading down this dark road a path filled with uncertainty created for you and me to see whether or not we will choose to live or to swallow the pill the pill that is usually prescribed the one used to ruin your life

2nd Verse:

But don't give up hope just yet the cup is half empty and yes the bottle is broken in two it's only up to you and while holding your head up high take a look and you'll know that you've tried so what if things didn't go all your way the struggle and strife have to stay

Ending:

(And I'll write a song that will last forever that everyone can sing it together and maybe the crowd will sing it aloud and cheer we'll see what happens here)-2x ; Dim all the lights turn on the spotlight and put it on you we'll see what you're made of I hope that you take advantage of this and break through (maybe you won't but maybe you will) it's only up to you
