This is my final affair, it's over and now I don't care
I've been in love and I found, it hurts when your heart's kicked around

This is my final romance, I know it's not worth a chance
I'm bluer than I was before, I won't fall in love anymore

It's too much to ask of someone to give their love, their heart, their all

To someone who's only pretending and calls you a fool when you fall

This is my final romance, I know it's not worth a chance
My heart's beyond all repair and this is my final affair

(It's too much to ask of someone To give their love, their heart, their all)
To someone who's only pretending
