My friends all say what a pity that you've been gone so long

Wonder how you are in the city oh honey won't you please come home

The cotton and the corn have been gathered the green green pastures are gone

The day looks like stormy weather honey won't you please come home mhm

[piano]

The whippoorwills have started calling the night winds whisper a song

Soon the tears will be falling oh honey won't you please come home

Soon the snow will be falling down comes teardrops and moan

I miss the sound of your calling oh honey won't you
please come home mhm
