Make your mind up
'Cause they're calling you insane
You could wind up
Never coming back again

Make your mind up
You're not making any sense
You could wind up
Going back to where you left

May justify to analyze that's all part of your brain
Rationalize all your supplies and flush 'em down the drain
Does it make a make a poor man holy?
Does it get you through the day?
'Cause your mind don't always benefit when fear gets in the way
Yeah, I'm pleased to finally meet ya
Yeah, I hope you never change

Make your mind up
'Cause they're calling you insane
You could wind up
Never coming back again

Make your mind up
You're not making any sense
You could wind up
Going back to where you left

Elaborate the better times and erase all the rest
'Cause they'll recognize what lies behind the secrets on your breath
It'll make you feel so lonely as they put you through the test
So memorize your alibis and call it self-defense
Yeah, they're gonna hypnotize ya
And they're gonna take away your strength
I don't wanna see you swingin'
With a rope around your neck

Make your mind up
'Cause they're calling you insane
You could wind up
Never coming back again

Make your mind up
You're not making any sense
You could wind up
Going back to where you left

And there's an evil sense of living as you feel your days are done
And your self esteem is staring down the barrel of a gun
And you know you're not the only lonely drifter with the dead
There are many gone before you in the books that I have read
About a 45 magnum, a 45 magnum, yeah, there's a 45 magnum
Pointing at your head

Make your mind up
'Cause they're calling you insane
You could wind up
Never coming back again

Make your mind up
You're not making any sense
You could wind up
Going back to where you left
