The lights go down upon the set
You see us now in silhouette
Perfect strangers waiting for the perfect time
To introduce their muse - to let their vision shine

Heres to the audience to friends we've never met
Heres to this night of nights - we won't soon forget
This is the right occasion - to get to know you well
This is a day we will remember
With friends we've never met

Since time began - we used the beat
To unite the world - to bring them to their feet
So lets get started - there's no need to take it slow Communicating life - the only way we know

Heres to the audience - to friends we've never met
You are the royalty that we won't soon forget
This is the right occasion - to get to know you well
This is the day we will remember- with friends we've never met

To friends we've never met - to the give and take of hearts
We know you by your spirit - we feel you in the dark
We give everything we can - our hearts an open hand
From deep inside we dedicate this set
To the friends we've never met

Perfect strangers waiting for the perfect time
To introduce their muse - to let their vision shine

Chorus

We won't soon forget you - we won't soon forget you
Someday we'll meet again
