Just because of the mood I'm in I know there's more to the weather than the western wind
And I feel like I'm gonna feel
Like a willow tree that's got some branches to bend

Well I give you all of my time
But you know I got nothing of the kind
And I take all your troubles I can find
But I know you say, you got nothing, nothing of the kind

Well I was told to just come on in But I didn't know exactly why or exactly when
So I just stood inside your door
And I waited there a while and then I waited there some more

Well I give you all of my time
But you know I got nothing of the kind

And I take all your troubles I can find
But I know you say, you got nothing, nothing of the kind

Well darlin' I've seen you cry
But there's more to your tears than meets the eye
And if you'd only look I know you'd find That there's more to your tears than there'll ever be to mine
