She said i'm not like this
You got me at my worse
And i'm no edison
You better off to jetison
But weight that compensates the worth
The least you could expect
When falling back to earth
Might be better to forget
Just begging for a bet
What demon doesn't serve
Who gets what they deserve

What other kind of lover is there but a bitter one
What other kind of lover is there but another one

And i said
I get the jist
I guess i must be cursed
Its plainly evident
My heart remains irrelevenat
My fate will function as a verse
The least you could expect
I guess it could reverse
Might be better to forget
Criteria's been set?
Take the worst for a turn
Just dumb enough to learn

What other kind of lover is there but a bitter one
What other kind of lover compare to another one
What way to take the core from the pair is to smother one
What other kind of lover is there
Is there no better one than me

And she was an angel
I came falling back to earth
And she was an angel
I came falling back to earth
Falling back to earth
And she was, she was an angel

Till she came falling back to earth

The least you could expect
The least you could expect
I guess it could be worse
The least you could expect
Falling back to earth
Falling back to earth
