would carry around the world
if right now
everyone inside of them could hear the voice that sings could i

you know i would carry around the world your memory today but will you hide the tears and turn and smile and walk away

and could i
you know i would

could i
would i
you know i would

i carry around the world this memory today but i will not hide the tears or turn or smile or walk away just could i look into your eyes and have no fear
you know i would

my only friend
who is now gone
don't take it to heart

even beyond you're still by my side
and there is no mistaken
let there be no mistaken

that could i look into your eyes and have no fear
you know i would
and could i look into your eyes and have no fear
you know i would
now there is no mistaken

no mistaken
from here on
from here on
from here on
from here on
you know i would
