Oh girl look at the time it takes
To see the whole thing fall
And girl look at the love we waste
Have nothing left at all
In time if I'm alone I'll learn to live a life
That don't begin with you
But if you change your mind
Change your point of view
Will you have a change of heart
And let me stay with you
Oh girl you said you've seen it all
As plain as it was day
And now all I have's a memory
Of life a better way
I've reached a crossroad girl can I go on
Or will I lose my way
But if you change your mind
Change your point of view
Will you have a change of heart
And let me stay will you
And if you change inside
What you know is true
Will you have a change of heart
And let me stay with you
You're finding your way at last 'cause I'm falling apart
I've reached a crossroad girl can I go on
Or will I lose my way
But if you change your mind
Change your point of view
Will you have a change of heart
And let me stay with you
And if you change inside
What you know is true
Will you have a change of heart
And let me stay with you
But if you change your mind
Change your point of view
Will you have a change of heart
And let me stay with you
And if you change inside
What you know is true
Will you have a change of heart

And let me stay with you
