Coast of marseilles

By: keith sykes

1977

I sat there on the coast of marseilles

My thoughts came by like wind through my hand

How good it'd be to feel you again

How good it'd be to feel that way again

Would you be remembering me?

I ask that question time and again

The answer came and haunted me so

I would not want to think it again

No I would not want to think it again

You make it so hard to forget

I haven't stopped lovin' you yet

(instrumental)

You make it so hard to forget

I haven't stopped lovin' you yet

When I left the coast of marseilles

I hadn't done what I'd come to do

Spent all the money I'd saved

Still did not get over you

No I still did not get over you
