(Paul Anka)

Give me back my heart, my love, it's the only thing I own
Without it deep inside of me I'm lost and so alone
I understand just how you feel why we've had to part
Understand me like I do, you give me back my heart.

Now that all is over and you'd found somebody new
There is just one favor I would ask of you
Just as once be good to me before the teardrops start
I beg of you my darling give me back my heart.

Give me back my heart my love, it's the only thing I own
Without it deep inside of me I'm lost and so alone
I understand just how you feel why we've had to part
Understand me like I do, you give me back my heart.

I remember how we loved and all the plans we made
But like the evening sunset all my dreams must fade
I remember oh so well it seems like yesterday
But now that all is over there's something I must say.

Just give me back my heart my love, it's the only thing I
own
Without it deep inside of me I'm lost and so alone
I understand just how you feel why we've had to part
Understand me like I do, you give me back my heart.

Give me back my heart...
