You've heard me sigh you've seen me cry you've helped to brush my tears away When things go wrong you're my comfort cause every night you make my day Your love and touch can do so much your smile helps me to find the way Straight to the arms that I live for where every night you make my day
Cause every night you make me happy with all the little things you do You make my life worth living you make my dreams all come true
When day is through I think of you and all my troubles slip away
It's that I long to be near you for every night you make
my day

my day
