Everybody knows now everybody knows Well you have made no secret of your new love affair
He buys you pretty presents and he takes you everywhere
You seen him all the places where you and I once went You sit and hold each other's hand in front of all our friends
Now everybody knows now everybody knows why my heart cries
There's no need to tell you you're too in love to see Everything I've told you baby you thought was jealousy
But if he ever breaks your heart the same as you broke mine
Just come on running back to me you're welcome any old time

Cause everybody knows yeah everybody knows why my heart cries
Everybody knows how your love for him grows as our love dies
