(Terry Coffey, Donnie Demers)

So she said this time it's real
Wish I didn't have to feel
Cause it's tearing me apart inside for sure
Wish I knew just what I could say
Would it matter anyway?
Could I love her any more?

There she goes
There she goes
Breaking my heart, and I know that she knows
There she goes
There she goes
Taking my life with her there she goes

I feel lost and so confused
Feeling restless, feeling used
What's the point in crying tears won't bring her back
Years of sunsets are down the drain
Now my world is filled with pain
Guess this story fades to black

There she goes
There she goes
Breaking my heart, and I know that she knows
There she goes
There she goes
Taking my life with her there she goes

Now I lay awake at night without you
Maybe, baby...
That you just might call and say you're on your way?
But am I fool to keep believing that you'll come back here
And that life will be the same as yesterday?

There she goes
There she goes
Breaking my heart, and I know that she knows
There she goes
There she goes

Taking my life with her there she goes

There she goes

There she goes

Breaking my heart, and I know that she knows

There she goes

There she goes

Taking my life with her there she goes
