embraced by the midwinter frost the light of darkness slips away black roses surround the fields strange floating lights, they float endless visions into forever eternity their burning shadows spirits break the mist

destiny takes the final twist beauty arise in a flood of bright, (maybe light) screams fill their lungs... silence traumatic voyage for the lost horrified in their empty shells alone in the world full of life sadness their only delight silence of the dead, beautifull as hell eternity their burning shadows

spirits break the mist

screams of silence beyond the gate of emptiness the well of burning fright lost in between, all life is forgotten embraced by the midsummer breeze back in the silence of the world beyond

destiny takes the final twist...
