You ran out of stories and the night is long Like the iciest winter, we struggle, the bond has gone Traps sprung in conversation
And your silence is welcome

Someone, somewhere must be having more fun than this Someone, somewhere must be having more fun than

You dream yours and I'll dream mine and we'll be happy
For when I sleep, I am who I always wanted to be We dream our love will grow Your fake Brando, my fake Monroe

Someone, somewhere must be having more fun than
Someone, somewhere must be having more fun than

Someone, somewhere must be having more fun than
Someone, somewhere must be having more fun than
