"Angel"

I had to wait so long, I had to take my time
Before love knocked upon my door
I had to be a man, I had to take a stand
'Cause I couldn't take no more

I was cold, I was lonely 'til you gave me the sign
As soon as you did I felt the bright sunshine
I was a deceiver, now I'm a new believer in love

Because angel
With every little beat of my heart
Oh, I love you
And I just got to tell you right now

It was a hurricane, it was a desert storm
It was a mountain I had to climb
I was a rolling rock, I was a man alone
And I was running out of time

I was cold, I was lonely 'til you gave me the sign
As soon as you did I felt the bright sunshine
I was out of giving but now I'm into living in love

Because angel
With every little beat of my heart
Oh, I love you
And I just got to tell you right now
Got to tell you that I love you

It's a bad, bad world
With danger everywhere
But as long as you're beside me angel
I don't care

Angel
With every little beat of my heart
Oh, I love you
And I just got to tell you right now

I say, angel
With every little beat of my heart
Oh, I love you

And I just got to tell you right now
Got to tell you, angel
