The first time I saw you I realized at once
You were an angel in torment
How could I desert you?

I vowed in that moment
Nothing in this world, or any other
Would ever threaten or hurt you

Dragons rage outside your door
But I'm on my way to save you
Demons wage unholy war
But I'm on my way to save you

The forces of darkness may mobilize
One hundred million demons
An army to keep you far from me

Determined to stop me, they'll spend eternity
Regretting they ever crossed me
They'll suffer, believe me

Dragons rage outside your door
But I'm on my way to save you
Demons wage unholy war
But I'm on my way to save you

Dragons rage outside your door
But I'm on my way to save you
Demons wage unholy war
But I'm on my way to save you

Dragons rage outside your door
But I'm on my way to save you
Demons wage unholy war
But I'm on my way to save you

To save you, to save you
To save you, to save you
To save you, to save you
