"I Think Of You"

When the night is cold
And my arms want somebody to hold
I think of you
And when the rain falling
I think of you

I think of you and of the hours
We spent together every night
I think of you and of the day
You walked away and out of sight

But now my arms just wanna hold you
Like they used to do before
I'm a broken man
Now you don't love me any more

I think of you and of the hours
We spent together every night
I think of you and of the day
You walked away and out of sight

But now my arms just wanna hold you
Like they used to do before
I'm a broken man
Now you don't love me any more

When the night is cold
And my arms want somebody to hold
I think of you
And when the rain falling
I think of you

I think of you
