Tired at your best but you wanna be loved
You're down and you're stressed
Baby, who can you trust?

You're working with you're heart
But you just can't break through, yeah
So my one piece of advice for you

Is you got to be strong and so tough
But if your mind is made up, you'll be fine
And you'll find that's enough

So, baby, don't swear to go alone
Get your hands on the floor
When your back's against the wall
Use that fire in your soul, let it go go

So tell it to me, baby, ain't it true
That everything you need is in you
Love will come around, light the fuse, yeah
So my next piece of advice for you

Is you got to be kind, it's a rush
When you find that you're trust
Was designed for you as a plus

So, baby, don't blow it, go low
Get your hands on the floor
When your back's against the wall
Use that fire in your soul, let it go
