Yeah, uhh, yeah

You at my welcome mat and I ain't mad by lettin' you in Long as you listen to me closely as you get to know Jin
First of all I had the thirst of all rappers combined
Worst of all people told me I was wastin' my time
Like I was better off makin' up computer designs
A doctor a lawyer or anythin' that's usin' my mind
When I used to rap I usually got refused and declined
'Till I felt abused and used it as fuel in my rhymes
In every battle the race card was my downfall
'Till I read the art of war and used it to clown you all
I'm still battlin' but on a different note
Not rappers but labels same ocean but a different boat
Them CEO's must be sniffin' coke
Don't they know that I'm the dopest product on either coast?
They tried to drown me but I stayed afloat
Here's a verse for you to quote the realest shit I ever wrote

C'mon

Now that I got your attention I gotta say this
I know that it's been debated I'm a gimmick they created

C'mon

All the people that hated because I made it two faced
When they the same ones that wished that I'd make it
C'mon

All the critics that's jealous that I've created
Still highly anticipated they nothin' to do but face it
C'mon

Even though that I'm Asian we all related be patient
'Cause we gonna make it so if you rollin' with me

We together now we ain't gotta act like strangers
I done let you into the deepest and darkest chambers
Introduced you to Jin all the pain and anguish
Gave you reasons why they say the fame will change us?

It's most common amongst entertainers
Rappers and athletes but how can you blame us?

Runnin' round crazy sayin' "I ain't the same cause"
But jealousy is a funny thing that the brain does
How can you not see in simple and plain view?
My fame ain't changed me man it changed you
But then again I guess that's what haters do
And it's a damn shame my fans got haters too
It's like the listen and disregard the lyrics
Imagine if they flipped it and the artist were the critics
And everythin' you did was under the scope
And you use about to get hung and we the ones with the rope

C'mon

Now that I got your attention I gotta say this
I know that it's been debated I'm a gimmick they
created

C'mon

All the people that hated because I made it two faced
When they the same ones that wished that I'd make it

C'mon

All the critics that's jealous that I've created
Still highly anticipated they nothin' to do but face it

C'mon

Even though that I'm asian we all related be patient
'Cause we gonna make it so if you rollin' with me

If you think about it me and you we really the same Ain't nothin' different about us but the faces and names

The places we came lies that were placed in our brains
If our ancestors knew they'd be disgraced and ashamed

So I chose to be the one to change the pace of the game

Look at me hot as California burnin' in flames

Still I feel that everythin' I earn is in vain

Unless I do somethin' positive with what I obtain

These people must truly think I'm truly insane

Like my life around me revolves around the jewellery and dames

I'm quick to rip that picture right up outta the frame

I ain't tryin' see my whole life go down the drain

And be, forty years old still hoppin' the train

Frontin' with a fake smile like I'm doin' my thang

Hurtin' inside tuck in my pride hide in my pain

If you've never settled for less then you feelin' the same

C'mon

Now that I got your attention I gotta say this

I know that it's been debated I'm a gimmick they

created
C'mon
All the people that hated because I made it two faced
When they the same ones that wished that I'd make it
C'mon
All the critics that's jealous that I've created
Still highly anticipated they nothin' to do but face it
C'mon
Even though that I'm Asian we all related be patient
'Cause we gonna make it so if you rollin' with me
