It's a glorious downpour for me
Like I'm swallowing down all the horror in you
It's a glorious downpour for me
Like I'm guzzling down all the anguish in you

Finally reached the point when... no turning back again
Once you bite it's all right
Nothing ever tastes the same my friend...
I don't care for all the lore, the first tale was a bore
Blood is just for the start, I want your whole system
And of course your heart... will beat with mine

Incisor two inch... with a PSI of increasing trouble
Canine pierce the epidermal rubicon
Adrenaline quickens, pace broadens
Molar infusion for plasmas sake, I awake in thousands
Millions molecular awareness, have you ever
Felt power like this? literally devouring...

It's a glorious downpour for me
Like I'm swallowing down all the horror in you
All the beauty in you... all the happiness in you
