[Verse 1]

I was fast asleep and i had a dream and everything was so confusing and you were there listening to me while i was talking in the middle of nowhere i told you what was going on how everyhting was going wrong and in the midst of it all you sad you said....

[Chorus]

When the rain starts falling and the wind starts blowing and it keeps on going and it keeps on growing and the sun stops shining and the water's steady rising coming higher and higher you gotta take sometime to analyze your life

[Verse 2]

And i was trying to awake from this dream cuz the things you were saying just didn't make sense to me but you stayed there still listening to me while i was explaining in the middle of nowhere then the rain began to fall and the wind was blowing strong and in the midst of it all you said you said....

[Chorus]

[Verse 3]

And for the 3rd time i finally realized with tears running down my eyes i cried, i cried cuz i understood why things were going wrong in my life and it came as no surprise that i had to make a sacrifice you told me it was up to me some of the things didn't have to be and right then it hit me how this dream was reality

[Chorus 2x]
