[Verse 1]

Now that we finally have time to spend i don't care what we do i just don't want this day to end feels like forever since the last we were together but really it was only yesterday so whatever it is we'll talk about it baby we can stay in or go out baby not picky about what you say just don't let nothing get in our way

[Chorus]

Kick back in the house watching movies relax on the couch we'll go to sleep not picky about where we should be as long as you're with me baby dinner with the table set for two dancing in the corner of the room not picky about what we should do as long as i'm with you baby

[Verse 2]

I'm not particular about what we do just as long as i can spend some time with you when we're together we just have a special chemistry that i've never found with someone else so i think that we were meant to be it seems to be our destiny and with that said i just want you all to myself so it don't matter, don't matter, don't matter, no it don't matter
don't matter, don't matter we can go anywhere you want to be baby
i don't care we can kick back and relax
