Long ago home town
Two best friends
Growing up
All but a dream now
First kisses, puppy love

There was nobody else in the whole wide world
But me and my girl
It was not long before we knew what it was
And calling it love

But everybody knows how the story goes
Something in your eyes said the innocence over now
Telling me that you found somebody new
Something in my heart said the innocence over now
Girl I really loved you more than I could tell you
Something in the air said the innocence over now

We made vows in the tree house, together forever
Little did we know we'd change
Not always for the better
Our love those words just could not hold anymore
We burned all we swore
Like all those clothes that did not fit anymore
We grow out of love

But everybody knows how the story goes
Something in your eyes said the innocence over now
Telling me that you found somebody new
Something in my heart said the innocence is over now
Girl I really loved you more than I could tell you
Something in the air said the innocence over now
Yeah I really loved you more than I can show you
Something in your eyes said the innocence over now

I won't forget how sad and pretty you looked Saying don't worry baby you'll find somebody new Somebody good

But everybody knows how the story goes
Something in your eyes said the innocence over now
Telling me that you found somebody new
Something in my heart said the innocence is over now
Girl I really loved you more than I could tell you
Something in the air said the innocence over now

Yeah I really loved you more than I could show you
Something in your eyes said the innocence over now

Something in my heart said the innocence over now
