My Head spins, with a thound lines.
So many voices, only one that decides.
I hang my Head, as I change my mind.
If I let you down, i apologize.

Theres one right choice, but to gone one is a million ways.
It gets so hard to wish, i could but i can't runaway.
They tell me i shouldn't love you, they stand in the way.
But i can hear the voices & the'll say.

(Chours)

Should I stand up and love or should I,
Break your heart, I never knew why.
Held the answer in my head, yeah.
We said we never let 'em bring us down, though i
wanna run i can't quit now.
Anything i do would be enough, unless I stand up &
love.

So I stand up, and I stand tall.
They can't critizise, but they not me at all.
Consiquence taking all the chance.
Love won't wait and we won't be givin' it.

One right choice i make, is another big mistake.
It gets so hard thought about it, but I won't runaway.
They can tell me, I shouldn love you and try to stand in the way.
But I can hear the voices and the'll say.

(Chours)

Should I stand up and love or should I,
Break your heart, I never knew why.
Held the answer in my head, yeah.
We said we never let 'em bring us down, though I
wanna run i can't quit now.
Anything I do would be enough, unless I stand up and
love.

Everything you are, everything I've seen so far can't get enough,

and yes I'm gonna fight for every space and time, until your mine.

(Chorus)

Should I stand up and love or should I,

Break your heart, I never knew why.

Held the answer in my head, yeah.

We said we never let 'em bring us down, though i
wanna run i can't quit now.

Anything i do would be enough, unless I stand up and
love.
