Sippin' on coffee going ice cold Starin' out the window at the red tail lights Overslept, runnin' late, sittin' out here on the interstate locked up tight
Stop and go, spit and snow, lookin' through the radio, nothing on Cell phone ringing, boss screaming, "Boy you better get your A-game on"

And it's only Monday
Longer than I've said goodbye Lonlier and wondering how on earth will I live without you
And I've only got the whole rest of my lifetime wishing we'd found a way
And it's only Monday

Coming home tonight, turning on the light in that empty place is gonna be so hard 'Cause ever since I saw your silly grin beaming my home has been where you are Shoulda, coulda, woulda Girl I never understood what went so wrong One night down but it feels like forever since you've been gone

And it's only Monday
Longer than I've said goodbye
you
And I've only got the whole rest of my lifetime wishing
we'd found a way
And it's only Monday
It's only Monday

I keep hoping someday, some way That baby you'll see the light I'm already feeling like hell Can't wait for Saturday night

And it's only Monday
Longer than I've said goodbye

you
And I've only got the whole rest of my lifetime wishing
we'd found a way
And it's only Monday
It's only Monday
