Would you hold me tonight?
Would you stay with me anyway?
Would you love me
and not my need to be loved?
Would you honor my wishes?

Would you trust me?
Do you really want to?
in the garden of delight
will it be my bloom
that still excites you?
And would you honor my wishes?

Will we ever meet again
in the house where we started?
Will I feel the suede of your skin
as you move to turn off the light?
Would you honor my wishes?
