I'll just keep on falling in love till I get it right
Right now I'm like a wounded bird hungry for the sky
But if I try my wings and try long enough, I'm bound to learn to fly
So I'll just keep on falling in love till I get it right

My door to love has opened out more times than in I'm either fool or wise enough to open it again
'Cause I'll never know what's beyond the mountain
Till I reach the other side
So I'll just keep on falling in love till I get it right

If practice makes perfect, then I'm near about
As perfect as I'll ever be in my life
I'll just keep on falling in love till I get it right

If practice makes perfect, then I'm near about
As perfect as I'll ever be in my life
I'll just keep on falling in love till I get it right
