"Nourishment Through Bloodshed"

The core of corruption collects it's nourishment through regurgitated war
And bloodshed

For I softly sleep in a society egocentric enough to cast war,

A blistering infection that continues to spread

Our young are steadily allured into slaughter

All in purpose to make this self crowned sleaze a dollar

These the smeared fingerprints of the gods...

The ever evolving military industrial complex is bleaker
than any
Fabricated hallucination

Opt for change? complicated with this two party system spinning without
Traction

The ever evolving military industrial complex is bleaker
than any
Fabricated hallucination

These are smeared fingerprints of the gods, the undertaking and domination Of nations

The ever evolving military industrial complex is bleaker
than any
Fabricated hallucination

Opt for change? complicated with this two party system
spinning without
Traction

These are the smeared fingerprints of the gods, the undertaking and

Domination of nations

undertaking and
