

Job For A Cowboy "The Divine Falsehood"

Visit "The Divine Falsehood" on MotoLyrics.com

I stood in the sand from the mouth of the sea
And watched a serpent rise from its depths
Upon his horns rested ten crowns

As the discord of trumpets grew unnerving
Its perception giving an overruling mentality
Of authority and supremacy

All dwellers of earth shall pray and worship
This image of this deceitful demon
Whose names are not written in the ink or blood
In the book of the life of the lamb

Shall be slain from the foundation
Of this declining and now decaying world

Visit Job For A Cowboy page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.