We won't take the fall
in all the hatred of it all United we will rise with none left behind falling faster...

My brother be in decay.
I will submit to you.

Thus far, we really haven't grown that far apart;
but it's still ripping out my heart.
And it feels like I'm falling from a star.
Joy seems so hard to get, I can't put my finger on it.
And it feels like I'm falling from a star.

Tonight I will lift up my brothers;
And give them all of the love that they deserve.
No blame in it. No shame in it.
Show them how much they mean to me.

I need you tonight,
I need you to kill all the pain that is living within
I can't be real but im sick of pretend, without your love it would be harder to reach me
i let them circle around and defeat me i never thought that my life would go on but it's on and on...
