Listen up before the day has faded
I've got a really short story to tell
Keeping time and an open mind
Keeping time and an open mind

Can i open with a question?
(Not a sugar coated lesson)
Less than twenty minutes later when I'm catching dirty looks
From the ones who won't admit when they're wrong Scaring all the girl just by repeating the name of the song
You think you're getting off easy
But you're barely getting along
Playing harder to get
Time to wish you with the time
With the light of your life
The more you try to make a stand the longer you're gonna sit
Too fulling commiting for a full go
Too fulling commiting for a full

Listen up before the day has faded
I've got a really short story to tell
Keeping time and an open mind
Keeping time and an open mind
Listen up before the day has faded
I've got a really short story to tell
As anyone can see that you've creating your gun
Counting on hope
Only living for the night of your life
Whoa
Way to make us leave in a day
Whoa
Way to bring your dreamer away

Are you open to suggestion?
My educated guess is
No answer
Got a simple yes or
Knowing that i'm right
When you left where you don't want to be

Wasting time blaming
Not admitting that you started the scene
You're not getting off easy
But you're barely getting along
Playing harder to get
Still pretending that you're ending what shoulda never began
Trying hard to prove me wrong but i ain't seen nothing yet

Listen up before the day has faded

Keeping time and an open mind
